Fourteen Killed When Train Crashes Into Bus Carrying Young People From Dance

Three Others May Die as Result of Tragedy at Painesville, Ohio.

WRECKAGE CATCHES FIRE

Three of Bodies Found on Pilot of Locomotive When 60-Mile Rush Is Made; Driver of Bus Tried to Beat Express on Crossing, Union.

CLEVELAND, March 4.—Fourteen persons were killed and five injured, one of whom may die when a New York Central express train crashed into a motor bus at Painesville, 25 miles east of here early today. A coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon. City officials at Painesville and officials of the New York Central started investigations this morning. Three of the dead were found on the locomotive pilot when the train was brought from its 60-mile pace to halt about three blocks from the site of the collision. Most of the killed were residents of Fairport. Many of them had left a dance hall in Painesville less than an hour before the crash. An explosion of the machine's gas tank set fire to the debris and several were severely burned. The bus, operated between Painesville and Fairport, was making its trip to Fairport for the night. R. McBain, assistant general manager of the New York Central, this morning gave out a statement in which he said the disaster probably resulted through the bus driver trying to beat the train.

Income Returns Must Be Filed by March Fifteenth

Deputy Collector C. A. Streb wishes to again draw attention to the liability for filing income tax returns. Every single person or head of family, male or female whose net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more and every married person, living with husband or wife whose net income was $2,000 or more, must file a return regarding the personal exemption. A new provision of the revenue act requires that persons whose gross income was $5,000 or more must file a return, regardless of all deductions for personal exemption. The law imposes a heavy penalty in failure to file a return which could be done on or before March 15. Responsibility for filing rests with the individual whether blank form has been mailed or not.

B. & O. OFFICIALS OPPOSE REDUCTION IN COAL FREIGHTS

Deny Claim of Shippers That Lower Rates Would Bring More Traffic.

EQUIPMENT POOL PLAN

Objection to Security Owners Association Is Experience Proves That Individual Control Is Better in Every Way.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Railroads moved yesterday to oppose the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearing into rate structures to contest the practically unanimous demand from shippers for lower rates on coal. A Coalbrook assistant coal traffic manager of the Baltimore & Ohio, first witness called to rebuttal, brought in an elaborate analysis of the coal situation with comparisons taken from the testimony of numerous witnesses who asked the commission to enforce a ban on the coal situation. The evidence of their coal situation would result in a marked increase in operating costs for railroad or increased traffic.

Mr. Cochran declared that average freight on coal today compared with coal prices are proportionately lower than they were in 1914. The average freight rate on coal in 1914 between the mines and the consuming centers was $1.76 per ton, while the average rate today is $1.17, which would be, to previous rates, a 34 percent average freight on coal was $2.22 per ton and that the average rate today is $1.17.

A reduction in the coal rates would not be followed by any increase in coal production, but rather would merely operate to reduce the cost of production, he declared. Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio and B. & O. Association, were called by the railroad to present evidence of the coal situation. The testimony of the railroad officials was that the coal situation was not as bad as the shippers claimed. The railroad officials declared that the coal situation was not as bad as the shippers claimed. The railroad officials declared that the coal situation was not as bad as the shippers claimed.

As the name of the company would indicate, these artists have established great names for themselves through the medium of their recordings for the Victor. The Aaron Company, which is responsible for the appearance here of these artists, wishes it distinctly understood that they will appear in person and that no talking machines are used during the evening. It is to give their thousands of admirers an opportunity to see and hear these favorites in person that the concert was arranged.

The eight members of the Victor party are Henry Burr, tenor; Albert Campbell, tenor; John Meyer, baritone; Frank Croton, bass; Monroe Silver, the "Cohen" story teller; Ford Van Dine, banjoist; Frank Banta, pianist, and the world-famous laugh provocer, Billy Murray. The Sterling Trio, composed of Campbell, Burr, Meyer and Croton, will give several triple and quartet selections. And the program for the evening will contain many numbers which these artists have recorded on the Victor.

Henry Burr is probably the best known of famous American tenors. And while his name is a household word in the majority of musical homes, few people aside from his personal friends know him when they see him, largely because of the fact that he has rarely done concert work outside of New York, having preferred to devote all of his time to studio work and Victor recording. He is a pupil of John Deems Mohan and for some years was soloist of the famous choir of the Church of the Incarnation in New York.

The humorous work on the evening program will be carried by Billy Murray and Monroe Silver, both of whom have been before the public for many years. Murray will sing some of the songs which have made him famous, and Silver, who is probably best known for his "Cohen on the Telephone" stories, will tell many of his Jewish dialect stories and sing some original parodies.

John Meyer and Frank Croton, the baritone and bass of the party, have made a name for themselves as soloists and in a life study and each sings solo in addition to taking part in the trio and quartet numbers. Croton is a noted pianist and one of the best American concert and oratorio baritone. He has sung with much success with the leading chorale clubs and oratorio societies of the country, and has also appeared as special soloist with the Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia Symphony Orchestras and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Another feature of the evening will be the banjo selections by Ford Van Dine, his mastery of the difficult banjo technique being a revelation to all who hear him. Frank Banta, the youngest member of the party, has a hobby for "jazzing" at the piano and he has received many flattering press notices both as an accompanist and a soloist.

The full program for this all-star bill for March will be announced at a later date.

Interment followed in the Scottdale Cemetery. The same pallbearers who served for Mrs. Freeman served for Mrs. Dennis DeHaven, a former member of the Methodist Episcopal Church whose body arrived yesterday afternoon from Pittsburgh. Attention Music-Lovers!

Albert Campbell, first tenor of the Sterling Trio and Peerless Quartet, is a New Yorker by birth, education and taste. He is an old musical man but has gained nothing from his duets with Henry Burr.

Known the world over as a singer of tuneful and sentimental ballads, he is an artist that never fails to please. Duets, too, with Campbell, a member of the Sterling Trio and Peerless Quartet.

According to the opinion of many who have heard him, he is the "funniest man in the world." Certainly he has no equal as a singer of topical songs. Next to singing he loves baseball best.

Based on the Peerless Quartet, has spent many years on the concert platform, and is especially famous as an oratorical singer. Big of stature, he has a voice of corresponding size.

John Meyer, one of the Sterling Trio and the Peerless Quartet, gained his first experience as a church singer; he is a talented pianist, and will be heard in piano duets with Frank Banta. Has composed several popular songs.

Here is "Cohen" himself. He will stand before you and tell the various experiences of familiar inhabitants of New York's famous East Side; and only the deaf fail to laugh when Monroe Silver tells a story.

Van Eps probably knows more about the banjo than any living man. Not only is he a wizard of the banjo, but he makes all of his own instruments. He attributes his virtuoso skill to hard work, and plenty of it.

Frank Banta, the pianist and accompanist, has specialized in that class of music known as "Jazz." His skill is truly remarkable, and nobody is more versatile in devising new ragtime effects at the keyboard.

Tests to Determine Physical Standards For Smelting Coke

The physical characteristics of coke is a matter of great importance to the blast furnace and foundry men. Tentative definition of terms relating to coke have been formulated by the Bureau of Mines and submitted to the American Society for Testing Materials. Data is being assembled as to the methods in general use in making "shatter" and "hardness" tests on coke.

The Bureau of Mines realizes that if the results of such empirical tests are to be used to the best advantage they must be standardized in order that the results obtained be comparable. It is proposed to get as much information together as possible as to the methods of conducting these tests and from these data tentative methods will be submitted to the American Society for Testing Materials for the making of "shatter" and "hardness" tests on coke.

Alverton

Alverton, March 4.—D. D. Fuller, the music instructor engaged to develop a choir at the Church of God, will organize the choir next Thursday evening. The original plan was to organize this week but had to be postponed. The choir who stole the overcoat from a burglarist W. G. Wyatt some four weeks ago, also carried off a pair of ladies' shoes. A man was seen going through Alverton with an overcoat and shoes the morning of the robbery, but he aroused no suspicion at the time.

The Sumner and Webster societies of the high school staged a boys' and girls' basketball game in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. The rivalry between the two societies is very keen and it was exhibited in both contests. Although the Sumners lost in the 11th annual literary contest, they were victorious in basketball. A large crowd witnessed the games, both societies having many supporters present.

A goodly number of persons attended the citizens' meeting in the high school Thursday afternoon. Those attending were shown the crowded conditions and inadequacies of the building and then were addressed by J. L. Loucks and Supervising Principal D. P. Davis.

The Missionary Society held an all-day sewing Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. B. Hickenell. About 20 members were present and about dinner was served to the faculty and many students of the high school. A good collection was received and much work accomplished.

Clothing Like Dad's

By Wright-Meister Co.
One of the proudest and wildest most exciting days in a boy's life is the day he steps out garbed in the trappings of a full grown man. The knickerbocker trousers hang despoiled and discarded on the closet door and he is consumed with fear lest mother may be expecting him to don them again on Monday for school and keep the new suit for "best." The boy's graduation from the knickerbocker class may be attended by tears of his mother, who makes this the occasion of a reminiscent mood, but even she cannot but admit that the clothes make a decided improvement in the long-legged lad's appearance.

The mother's pride in her boy's appearance will be two-fold if she has helped him choose a suit that seems made expressly for him; a suit of good woolen texture; a suit that possesses the style, the grace and the workmanship that all young men want. Now, more than at any time, perhaps, will his clothes be subjected to rigid inspection—for the change in his appearance is so manifest that he will come in for an undue amount of attention.

It is decidedly wrong to think that any suit will do for a boy—his budding manhood yearns for beauty a thousand times more than the mature years of his father. He wants a suit that will fit his athletic growing figure, that will be trim in the waist with well set shoulders.

Now, if never again, the parents should exercise care and attention in the selection of the youth's new suit. They should go to a good, reliable clothier whose aim is not to give you the cheapest suit in the town, but the best value for the money. He carries a line expressly for young men with the designs and patterns best suited to their needs and desires.

Give the boy the right to feel that he is well dressed, that he looks fully as well as any of his "buddies," and the radiant expression of the young face and the light in his bright young eyes when he dons his first "long pants suit" will fully pay you for your careful selection and monetary expenditure.

Know a man by his clothes!

Mines Bureau Is Investigating the Origin of Coals

An extensive investigation is being conducted by the Bureau of Mines regarding the origin, composition and chemistry of coals, cannel coals, and boghead coals. The coals from various beds and localities are examined microscopically. This section is also examined at all magnifications; the constituents burning coals are examined and certain characters are recorded photographically. Coals may thus be studied concerning their nature, quality and various characteristics. The kinds, relative amounts and nature of the various constituents are studied and correlated with their distillation products and other qualities and characteristics shown in relation to their economic uses, such as cooking, gas production, steam-making, etc.

Oil shales and cannel-shales are also being studied by the Bureau of Mines as to their origin, composition and chemistry. Thin sections are cut and studied under the microscope and characters recorded photographically. The mineral matter is removed by means of acids and the remaining organic matter examined and compared with thin sections. The organic matter is burned out at low temperatures and the remaining mineral matter left so examined and compared with thin sections. The kinds, nature and relative amounts of the various constituents are thus studied and correlated with the kinds, nature and relative amounts of distillation products.

Fire at Meadowslands.
WASHINGTON, Pa., March 3.—A fire originating in an overturned stove today destroyed two buildings at Meadowslands, near here, with a loss estimated at $36,000. The town has no fire protection and companies from Cambsburg and Washington saved the business section of the village from destruction.

No Word on Sinking Steamer.
BOSTON, March 4.—Radio stations along the north Atlantic seaboard today were actively seeking news from the Norwegian steamer T-ronfott which was reported sinking yesterday with 20 men aboard 500 miles east of Cape Race. The last word from the vessel said all lifeboats had been smashed by high seas.

146 Fatalities in Mines in January; 197 Same Month 1921

Accidents at coal mines during January caused the loss of 146 lives, according to reports received by the United States Bureau of Mines from all state mine inspectors. During the same month in 1921 there were 197 fatalities. The decrease of 51 fatalities represents about 25 per cent. Based upon an estimated production of 43,955,000 short tons of coal in January, 1922, the fatal-accident rate was 3.32 per million tons mined, as compared with 4.15 for January, 1921, when the output of coal was 47,680,000 tons.

During the past nine years 1913-1921, the month of January has shown an average of 50,431,000 tons of coal mined and a loss of 292 lives. The average fatality rate for the nine-year period was 4.01 per million tons mined and it thus seen to be considerably higher than the rate for January, 1922.

An explosion of coal dust on January 11 at the Layman-Galloway mine, at Layman, Kentucky, resulted in the death of six men. The explosion was reported as being caused by blown-out shots.

Comparing the accident record for January, 1922 with that for January a year ago, there was a reduction of 19 fatalities in West Virginia, eight in Kentucky, seven in the bituminous mines of Pennsylvania for a Wyoming, three in Indiana and three in Iowa. Alabama showed an increase of five fatalities and Ohio an increase of two. A reduction of seven is noted in the number killed at the anthracite mines in Pennsylvania.

Connellsville High School Wins Second Game of Season Over Mill Town Outfit; Score Is Decisive

Scottsdale Puts Up Great Fight to Finish but Goes Under.

COKER FORWARDS STAR

By James M. Driscoll
Sporting Editor.

Connellsville High School, fired with an enthusiasm which could not be downed and working at times at their best form, last night hung up a real victory over the Scottsdale High School basketball outfit on the local gymnasium and did something very unusual in Coker history—completed the second defeat of a Scottsdale team in the same season.

The score was decisive enough to establish the fact that Connellsville has a better team this year. The final result was 35-25.

The game was played before the largest crowd which ever packed the gymnasium of the Connellsville High School. It was necessary to lock the doors at 8 o'clock and many of those inside the building had difficulty in seeing the contest. At 7 o'clock there was an immense crowd of Connellsville rooters waiting to gain entrance to the floor and the crowd poured steadily in. Both schools were out on a case and there were all sorts of noise-making contrivances.

For a time neither team scored from the floor, the score being kept even by foul shooting of good quality on the part of both English and Soisson. Connellsville ran up a lead of several points in the second half, only to have this cut down and when the whistle blew for the ending of that period the score was 19-15 in favor of the locals.

The visitors were held to a total of three field goals. Hurst got two and English one. Two were made in the first half and one in the last. Soisson and McCormick were the pair who kept their team ahead. Each scored a total of five field goals, and Lowrey also managed to squeeze one in. Nixon and Welsh, the guards were fighting every minute and played their men wonderfully well.

The game was not the best seen on Connellsville's floor this season but it gave the crowd much more satisfaction. The noise added to the spirit injected into the play and fans hugged one another when the final whistle blew.

Scottsdale's play seemed to center around Maloy, who ran the team. The Mill Towners have a coming star in their midst in English, it was demonstrated, and Scottsdale fans claim he will eclipse Hume, a former Mill Town top-notch athlete.

The line-up:
Connellsville-35
Scottsdale-25
Soisson, F. English, Walters
McCormick, C. Hurst
Lowrey, O. Soisson
Welsh, G. Hurst
Nixon, G. Soisson
Substitutions—Maloy for Hume, Hume for Walters, Harmon for Lowrey, Oskinsky for Nixon.
Field goals—McCormick 5, Soisson 5, Hurst 2, English, Lowrey.
Foul goals—Soisson, 21 out of 28, English, 19 out of 25.
Referee—Wall.

Walters, a Scottsdale forward, was injured when he fell on his face in the first half. He was able to be taken home.

Scottsdale brought a mascot with them. He led the rooters in cheers between halves and picked up pennies thrown to him by spectators. In the final quarter, however, seemingly realizing a Scottsdale defeat, he dropped off to sleep.

The Cokers wore their old uniforms. Scottsdale used white jerseys and the locals had on their orange ones in order to be more easily distinguished from their opponents.

Hurst made his goals by long shots from the middle of the floor. They dropped in cleanly.

Connellsville High goes to Monessen tonight. Another hard game.

Coch Wine was congratulated by many for his success this season. He devoted all his time to bringing the team to a point where it would be in good shape to score a decisive victory.

Cowbell's klaxons, tin horns, cornets and other contrivances were used by Connellsville rooters to keep things lively.

Many did not anticipate such a large attendance and not arriving until late were unable to go into the high school.

The victory gave the Cokers a percentage of 500 in the W. P. League, it being the final game and it also made 14 won and 13 lost during the season.

There are still a number of hard games on the local schedule, especially next Saturday night when Washington High will be here.

The South Side Preps are again going out of their class to battle tonight and will meet the St. Vincent team of Leipsic on the Parochial Hall floor. St. Vincent is tied with the Casey Club for first place in the U. S. League.

CITY LEAGUE GAMES NEXT WEEK PROMISE SOME GREAT PLAYING

With interest in the City League growing apace a larger crowd than usual is expected to witness the clashes at the Parochial Hall Monday between the Snyder, Jive and Unity Fraternities and the Captains and Legion outfits.

The Captains-Legion game although previously scheduled last, has been changed to first place by the board of control. The other two aggregations will play last.

The Unity Fraternity is out to win to keep its high standing, and the Snyder are in the game to secure a record of its opponents possible.

Wednesday there will be another star attraction in the Casey-B & O Clerks meeting and the St. Vincent Trotter game. It is really the best card offered on the entire schedule. The Casey Clerk game will be played last this also being changed by the Board of Control.

GOLFERS OF ENGLAND WANT 36-HOLE PLAY

Petition St. Andrews to Copy
America's System.

If Efforts of Britishers Are Successful
There Will Be Increased Interest and Keener Competition in Contests

Increased interest and keener competition between the amateur golfers of America and Great Britain is promised if amateur players in Britain are successful in their effort to have the manner of deciding the British champion changed from the present all match play tournament at 18 holes to the American plan of 36-hole qualifying round and match play at 18 holes.

Harold Hilton, John Bell, Cyril Tolley and Lord Charles Hope, as well as practically all of the other leading British amateurs, have signed a petition to the royal and ancient committee of St. Andrews, begging that severe organization to change from the British to the American plan.

Members of the American amateur international team which visited Hoyalake last year were not satisfied with the short 18 hole matches and main tained that the better players do not have the opportunity over 18 holes that is offered in a 36-hole match.

American stars who have played in British amateur championships very often have been eliminated by second rate players by match play in 18-hole matches when it is reasonable to assume that in a longer test the Americans would have come through. This does not reflect discredit upon the British players, for if the American championship was conducted at 18 holes the real stars would have much more difficulty in going through the field than they do when they have 36 holes in which to do their work.

YOUNG'S SPINAL COLUMN HAD BEEN DISLOCATED

Ralph Young, Detroit second baseman, has been told by a muscle and bone doctor in Philadelphia that the reason he makes wild throws is that he has a section of his backbone dislocated. The surgery man is now bandaging the misplaced knuckle back into that particular part of Young's spinal column in which it belongs. If a thing like that will cause wild throws, then Allan Sobron's backbones must be tied in a knot.

Hugo Bezdek will continue to coach Penn State. He announced the other day in denying a rumor he would coach Minnesota.

William Von Bornum who coached at Case Tech last fall has resigned as physical instructor to return to Purdue university.

Foundation of Every Room

Wall paper is really the foundation of every room. Bare walls without decorative relief are cold, tiresome, and without warmth. Soft tones or bright, tasteful designs on the walls have a marked effect, even upon the children, and certainly upon the grownups. With such a good beginning it is an easy matter to arrange the furniture attractively, to hang pictures more effectively, and to secure an effect of color harmony and good taste.

Our forefathers of Colonial days, unless they possessed great wealth, could not buy wall paper because of its great cost. It was not only hand-blocked, but had to be imported from Europe. Usually it was made to order for some particular home, and was therefore prohibitive to those of ordinary means. Contrast this fact, if you will, with the beautiful modern papers such as we show here—at prices within reach of even the smallest incomes.

W. L. Whipkey Lumber Company Has Had Remarkable Growth

Fourteen years ago W. L. Whipkey left the employ of the Connellsville Construction Company where he was working as an ordinary carpenter at $2.75 for nine-hour day and began building houses by contract. He soon learned that buying building material at retail was paying out the larger part of the profit as a much larger margin of profit was possible in those days than is possible now because of the much lower costs in handling lower taxes, no compensation insurance and no city license tax in those days. So three years later the first three carloads of lumber was ordered a friend going security for its payment, and a city lot 40x120 feet was secured, upon which to start a lumber yard by payment of $150 cash, the balance payment of $500 being secured by note, due with interest in four and one half years.

Thus in a humble way and without assistance was begun an industry that has since grown to massive proportions in competition. The business now embraces five city lots upon which is erecting a fine brick, modern residence. The modern garage, a office work shop hardware department, warehouse for storing lime plaster, cement, river board, plaster board and roofings of all kinds. Also separate sheds for all kinds of lumber (sash, shingles, slate, sash doors and finishing lumber).

As the family grew up the sons were taken into the business and the firm is now capitalized at $75,000. This firm was the first in Connellsville to install motor truck delivery and this department now comprises five trucks.

During the war, when freight shipments were impossible, the firm made truck deliveries to outlying districts at Mount Braddock, Star Junction, Jones Mill and Normandy, thus rendering a real public service. The firm has built a large number of the best residences in and around Connellsville among them being the homes of W. H. Thomas, M. W. Alter, A. D. Piersall, B. J. Hooper, J. C. Bonatz, Mrs. Maude Miller, Roy Impley and Mercedes Gladden.

The firm at this time has adopted the early payment plan and in 1921 accepted $1,500 in orders on lumber for the year.

Cypher & Son Builds Up Large Business in Plumbing, Heating

Twenty-four years ago Edgar Cypher, then an employ of Fitzmaurice & Company, of Connellsville, thought that he would branch out for himself and with his father, J. E. Cypher, then an engineer employed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, started the firm of Cypher & Son, plumbers at 120 North Second street in a shop 20x60 feet which was later enlarged to 20x120 feet. Subsequently a two-story wareroom and garage 30x50 feet were added. In 1916 Edgar Cypher, who still has an interest in the firm, went to Bedford and started a garage and hotel where he is now in business. At that time J. A. Cypher took over the management of the firm and has been enjoying a large patronage and in return has been giving service and quality a motto which is always upheld.

Freshley Brothers Business Has Experienced Rapid Growth

Six years ago C. E. Freshley, then working for S. E. Brant, a plumber of Connellsville, went to work in the plumbing business himself. With his brother Edward Freshley started what is now Freshley Bros. Plumbers in the first place of business was in the rear of the lough house where they had a small shop.

After doing business in that place for four years they decided they would move to a larger place and in 1918 erected at 115 First street, West Side where their shop is located and have worked up a good trade by giving good service for a reasonable charge. The firm does all kinds of plumbing and sheet metal work.

Who's Who?

We might say a lot of nice things about the Fine Plumbing and Heating we have done and how we are going to do yours which might listen good to you but we doubt it.

If you were going to purchase a fine automobile high sounding phrases written by high priced advertising men would not influence you greatly in the purchase. Neither would you expect to buy a Packard for the price of a Flivver.

Investigate, get the facts in the case, and if our record looks good to you come around and "Talk Turkey."

TWAS SAID:

The schoolmaster was talking about intruders. "Supposing," he said, "you saw a man fall from a high roof land on his head, get up and walk away, what would you say?"
No answer.
"Supposing the same thing happened again soon after?"
No answer.
"Supposing the man did it three times in a day, what would you call it?"
Habit, answered the small boy.

And if you come to this store several times for hardware needs you'll get the "habit" because you will be treated consistently, promptly and you'll obtain just what you want at a fair price—we treat our customers just like we would want to be treated, and this accounts for the fact that so many of your friends have the habit of coming here for their needs.

Princess Mary says she is going to have David install one of these Real American Bath Rooms in her new quarters. It is hardly likely that David will do his old overalls and tackle this job himself because one but a Real American Plumber could get away with it.

Up to the present time we have not had a call for an estimate on this work but we have installed some bath rooms in this city that would make Princess Mary sit up and take notice. Moral—Be a Plumber and have us build you a Real American Modern Bath Room for your Princess.
